RISK FACTORS

The risk factor set out below will be added in the section entitled "Risk factors relating to the Issuer" on page 1 of the Base Prospectus.

"Health and safety risks

Risks related to the spread of a global epidemic

The current health crisis linked to Covid-19 is an example of this type of risk. Although, as of the date of this Supplement, changes remain uncertain, the expected impact could be three-fold:

- an impact on the implementation of the AFD Group's annual programme of activities, resulting from prolonged travel restrictions and confinement measures associated with this type of health crisis which are liable to slow down processing. This will also be a result of the reduced capacity of our counterparties to jointly with AFD assess and implement projects and financing. This negative impact on the initial business plan could however be mitigated by the responses on which AFD is working to tackle the health crisis in its operating regions. The extent (regions impacted) but above all the duration of the crisis will be two factors that determine the final impact:

- the weakening of certain portfolio counterparties following the spread of the health crisis in the global economy, but above all in emerging and developing economies. However, the potential impact of this health crisis on the counterparties of the AFD Group will depend on its duration, its extent, but also budgetary and monetary measures taken by governments and international organisations to support SMEs, multinational companies and financial institutions;

- health risk for employees and their families, although the AFD Group has a policy of strict, immediate compliance with the recommendations of government and public health agencies across its French sites. Overseas, the situation is managed on a case-by-case basis, particularly on the basis of the recommendations of the French Ministry of Europe and Foreign Affairs and the recommendations of the local authorities. A crisis unit was set up when French authorities moved to stage 2 and the recommendations were circulated and applied in real time. On 16 March 2020, AFD launched its Business Continuity Plan (BCP) for its sites in mainland France."
